Strong financial performance, particularly cash flows

In 2016, the LOTOS Group improved its operating performance again. Consolidated revenue was PLN 20,931m. Adjusted LIFO-based EBITDA was at a record high at PLN 2.59bn. In 2016, the LOTOS Group earned a consolidated net profit of PLN 1,015m.

Record-high LIFO-based EBITDA

This continued growth of EBITDA lends credibility to the LOTOS Group’s objectives outlined in the new business strategy for 2017–2022: the target for 2018–2019 is average annual LIFO-based EBITDA of PLN 2.2–2.6bn, and we plan to increase it in 2020–2022 to PLN 3.8–4.4bn.

LIFO-based EBITDA

Strong operating cash flows

The LOTOS Group generated positive cash flows from operating activities of PLN 2,653.9m (up PLN 1,165.9m on 2015), mainly on net profit before depreciation and amortisation, income tax, and higher trade payables, which were offset by lower trade receivables. High-quality assets generate operating cash flows which are then used to finance business development projects.

Factors affecting the price, including key events at Grupa LOTOS:

In 2016, the situation on capital markets, including in Poland, was largely affected by global economic developments. The most important events were:

- Brexit and uncertainty about the scale of its consequences,
- The Presidential election and the prospect of interest rate hikes in the US,
- Risk of revision of Poland's credit rating by rating agencies,

- Concerns about the future of open-ended pension funds,
- Reduction of the grey market for fuels through new regulations,
- No final decision on the conversion of CHF-denominated loans.

The combination of those factors drove the situation on the Warsaw Stock Exchange. For most of the year, the WSE's main index (WIG) maintained a slight (single digit) growth, to accelerate only at its end. Over the full twelve months of 2016 WIG rose 14%.

In 2016, Grupa LOTOS traded in the range from PLN 24.10 to PLN 40.40 (2015: from PLN 22.90 to PLN 33.50), and the year's closing price was PLN 38.25, compared with PLN 27 in 2015. Over the whole of 2016, the price went up 46%.

The price of Grupa LOTOS shares increased in response to information on the financial performance for Q3 2016, announced towards the end of October, when the Company's EBIT proved better than expected. This improvement was supported by the effects of new regulations which helped curb the grey market for fuels, to the advantage of Grupa LOTOS. The publication of the LOTOS Group's new business strategy for 2017–2022 on December 15th 2016 was well received by investors, pushing up the share price during the last two weeks of 2016.

Administrative expenses decreased by PLN 33.2m (down 7.5% on 2015) mainly on lower employee benefits expense.

In 2016, the LOTOS Group reported net other expenses of PLN -143.7m, including chiefly:

- PLN -61m in net impairment losses on exploration assets and non-current assets and revaluation of provisions related to production activities in the Baltic Sea (including PLN -65m in impairment losses on expenditure related to the Gaz Południe licence area),
- PLN -22m in net impairment losses on assets and remeasurement of provisions related to the Norwegian fields
- PLN -5m write-off of expenditure related to Lithuanian assets,
- PLN -12m in impairment losses on service stations.

The LOTOS Group's operating profit for 2016, of PLN 1,854.7m (2015: PLN 423.4m), included:

- Operating profit of PLN 1,834.7m in the Downstream segment,
- Operating profit of PLN 17.8m in the Upstream segment.

The 2016 increase in operating profit was driven mainly by the uptrend in crude oil and petroleum product prices vs the previous year's downtrend, the higher USD/PLN exchange rate in 2016, and the higher differential for the Urals crude.

Upstream segment's key financial data (PLNm)

Higher revenue in the Upstream segment posted in 2016 (up 72.8% vs 2015) was driven mainly by higher sales volumes achieved following the acquisition of interests in the Sleipner production licences in Norway in the fourth quarter of 2016; the launch of production from the B8 oil field in the Baltic Sea; and the higher average annual USD exchange rate, which was partially offset by lower crude prices on global markets.

Downstream segment's key financial data (PLNm)

The lower revenue posted by the Downstream segment in 2016 relative to 2015 was mainly due to a 10.9% fall in average selling prices caused by lower prices of oil products on global markets, offset by the higher USD/PLN exchange rate. In 2016, the LOTOS Group posted an operating profit of PLN 1,834.7m in the Downstream segment; the main contributors included rising prices, higher exchange rates, higher differential for the Urals crude, and lower cost of gas purchased by the refinery for its own needs.

Cash flows from investing activities of PLN -1,003.2m primarily included expenditure on acquisition of property, plant and equipment and other intangible assets. A portion of expenditure on the EFRA Project in 2016 was financed with proceeds from the issue of Grupa LOTOS Series D shares deposited in a separate bank account.
